WELCOME

to the Summer 2026 edition of South Devon CAMRA branch magazine.

Our brewers have been in the news again and Bridgetown, South Hams, Copperhead, Teignmouth and Bays are all the recipients of recent awards for their products. Congratulations to all.

I'm delighted to share the results of the 2026 CAMRA Champion Beer of Britain, the overall winners of which were recently announced at the CAMRA Cambridge Beer Festival: Once again, some great results for breweries in the South-West Region

Gold: Bristol Beer Factory Independence, 4.6%

Bronze: Driftwood Spars, Alfie's Revenge, 6.5%

CAMRA have announced a change to the way beer scores are recorded with 'ratings' replacing the old 'scores'. Details of this change which takes effect from 1st June 2026 are inside.

The hospitality industry remains challenging and hopefully we have a good summer so our local businesses may benefit from the additional visitors. It is pleasing to see that at least one of the pubs in our area, The Divers Arms in Babbacombe has a new landlord and we look forward to that seaside pub reopening.

This quarter sees a number of beer festivals and CAMRA events including our own Totnes Beer and Cider Festival from 2nd to 4th July at Totnes Civic Hall with free entrance to card carrying CAMRA members (charge for glass and program). Hope you all have a great summer and look forward to seeing you at one of our events. Sadly, there is no Mr Grumpy article this issue, but it is hoped he will be in full Grump again soon.

Cheers for now,
 Lawrence Stringer Editor

SOUTH DEVON BREWERS TAKE TOP AWARDS AT THE SIBA MALTINGSFEST

Three South Devon breweries have struck gold at the SIBA Maltingsfest.

Copperhead Ales from Totnes took home the top two cask ale awards. As well as taking golds for best in their respective classes, Black Flamingo and Copperhead bitter took gold and silver in the Overall Champion of the Cask Beer Competition.

Bridgetown Brewery, also from Totnes, took gold in the British Cask Bitter class with the renowned Albert Ale.

Not to be outdone, Teignmouth Brewery took gold in the Cask Speciality Amber to Dark Beer class with 1846.

Congratulations to all our award winners and we look forward to your future brews.

PUB & BREWERY NEWS

The Old Exeter Inn in Ashburton was due to reopen on 1st June. Please check with the pub for opening hours.

The Albert Inn, Bridgetown, Totnes. It is business as usual for the Albert. "Now we have weathered all the winter shenanigans we are looking forward to another great summer," says landlord Giles Hawkins.

Lord Nelson, Totnes. New landlords Poppy and Danny have given the pub a bit of TLC and it is now open under their management. Check opening times with the pub.

Palk Arms, Hennock. With all the renovations and redecorations finished the Palk has already started summer activities. Outdoor (indoor in bad weather) summer music sessions started in May, while Saturday morning fry-ups are going well and a full menu will be in place over the summer months.

Landlord Mike Rowlands is looking forward as always. 'Hopefully the weather will be kind to us and we are looking forward to welcoming customers old and new to the revamped Palk Arms'.

Bridgetown Brewery at The Albert, Totnes. Brewer George "Looby-Loo" Langebeer is a very busy man. Not only is he collaborating with Copperhead Brewery to make a "punchy" IPA for South Devon CAMRA's upcoming Totnes Beer Festival but he is also hard at work making "specials" for the Albert Inn's Summer Beer Festival 26-28 June. George is also very pleased that he sold every drop brewed of Brutus Mild to several outlets during CAMRA's Mild Month in May and plans to brew more mild as soon as time permits.

Bays Brewery, Paignton is making waves with their second charity beer of 2026 - Afloat, a refreshing pale ale brewed in partnership with Torbay-based charity Above Water. 5% of every pint or bottle sold will go directly towards supporting Above Waters lifesaving water safety and drowning prevention

Copperhead Ales Brewery and Taproom. The brewery had a memorable weekend at the SIBA Maltingsfest in April. Black Flamingo (an Imperial Stout) and Copperhead Best Bitter both won Gold in their respective categories and then went on on to take Gold and Silver in the overall Champion of Cask Beer competition. Two bronze awards were also won by Smoove Stout and Crucial Pils Lager. Copperhead will now progress to the national finals at the SIBA Independent Beer Awards which are due to take place in March 2027 at BeerX in Liverpool.

South Hams Brewery won a Gold medal at The International Brewing awards for their Sherman. The International Brewing awards are the oldest beer competition in the world so this is a great win for South Hams. >>

Salcombe Brewery's renowned Island Street Porter has reached the final stages of Camra's Champion Beer of Britain awards.

At the recent Maltingsfest at Newton Abbot, Head Brewer Sam Beaman was presented with a certificate by Dave Buckler from South Devon CAMRA, pictured with Steve Murray, Regional CBOB Co-ordinator.

Visitors to Maltingsfest had the opportunity to judge the ale themselves, it was obviously well received with the cask being finished on the Friday of the festival with a day to go.

Fancy becoming an official CAMRA beer taster, or are you one already?

Readers of this publication and some South Devon Branch members will be aware that Paul (Grizzly) Adams is the branch Tasting Panel Chairman.

The trouble is that, due to the Data Protection Act, he does not know who else in our branch area is similarly trained or who would like training. This therefore makes it very difficult to run any events for Panel members or conduct renewal training.

With such events in mind if there are any brewers out there in South Devon Branch-land who would like to host an event of some kind - perhaps test-tasting new brews?

Please let Grizzly know if you are interested.

PUB & CLUB OF THE YEAR 2026

We recently completed our annual licenced premises award series for 2026, namely our Pub of the Year, plus runner up, our Cider Pub of the Year, and our Club of the Year.

The process as in previous years is that branch members are invited to nominate Pubs and Clubs for the award and subsequently members visit the selected hostelrys to score on a number of factors. The competition goes into more depth than our Good Beer Guide selections, which are based on beer quality. Pub and Club of the year scoring has categories for product knowledge and community involvement in addition to others.

Once the scores are in, the winners and runner up are selected based on the total scores received, and this year our overall winner is The Durant Arms in Ashprington. The runner up which receives our Town Pub of the Year is The Blue Anchor in Teignmouth. Our Cider Pub of then Year is The Queens Arms in Brixham and our Club of the Year is Paignton Constitutional Club.

Congratulations to all our winners, most definitely well earned and deserved.

The Pub of the Year competition does need a number of nominations each year and the more we receive, the better the results will be. If you know a pub in our branch area that goes the extra mile, where the licencees bring something different to their pub and are part of the local community, why not consider them for nomination?

(T)ALES OF THREE COUNTIES

With apologies to Charles Dickens and our erstwhile, John Betts

Now, I am pushing the boundaries, literally, with this article. A few weeks in the North West, covering Staffordshire, Cheshire and Derbyshire. There is however a most notable establishment we visited, albeit not an ancient one and indeed only a few years old which lies in.....Greater Manchester! It is now in the Metropolitan Borough of Stockport but 'historically', part of Cheshire. So, can I and Marple get away with it being in Cheshire? Perhaps.

A spring sojourn this time and it was good to see that many of the hostelries we visited were proudly sporting their local CAMRA branch's awards. And quite rightly so as their beer choices and quality were all that would be expected from the deliberations of the area's ale connoisseurs. Far more than those detailed below were visited, although this is our selection of the outstanding venues:

Staffordshire

As usual (or perhaps always!), that most splendid drinking town, Stone in Staffordshire was the start of our tour. The Swan, with its usual steadily rotating beer festival is always a must. Beers from small breweries sampled were Green Duck Brewery's Fat Cat, Kirkstall Brewery Three Swords and Red Willow Brewery's Reckless. All ales sampled over several visits were in fine form.

So, now to one of those unique pubs amongst the knowledgeable drinking fraternity, The Black Lion at Consall Forge. I say unique as it lies in what is known locally as the hidden valley. The Black Lion is not directly accessible by motor vehicle and at one time, beer was delivered directly from railway covered vans. The pub has a picture of this operation in the early 1960's displayed close to their many CAMRA awards. Originally only accessed on foot, via many flights of steps on either side of the valley or canal towpath, canal boat or train. Access is now a little easier as the area, which once was a hive of industry, although one would now never know, is a nature reserve, operated by the RSPB. The aforementioned railway is operated by a preservation society running steam trains and the once derelict canal was reopened in 1974. When I awoke there early one morning, all one could hear was birds, no man-made noise at all. That was until the landlord of the pub started his garden tractor, coupled on his small trailer and brought the empty casks over the pubs level crossing, the canal bridge, towpath and footbridge over the River Churnet weir, to the nearest point where a vehicle could reach. Now all the above must be fairly unique but what about the beers? During our visit Full Circle Brew Co's Equal measure and one from Falstaff Pub & Brewery called Barrymore were sampled. Due to their splendid quality, a most enjoyable afternoon in the Easter Bank Holiday Monday sunshine was spent relaxing in the garden amongst the walkers.

It's many years since we had visited The Blue Bell at Kidsgrove. An area notable for a canal and railway junctions and numerous tunnels through Harecastle Hill, including lengthy canal tunnels by both James Brindley and Thomas Telford. The Blue Bell is also notable being operated some years ago by a husband-and-wife team, both active members of the Potteries CAMRA branch. It has undergone changes since we last visited but the ale choices, quality and CAMRA recognition remain from its formative years. Elizabeth delighted in the Ossett White Rat, whilst I drifted into the 'dark side' with a lovely pint of Fierce Breweries Noir Stout. These were ones of seven cask beers available as the White Rat replaced the Marble Beers Lagonda during our couple of hours in this splendid pub. »

Cheshire

Congleton is a splendid town for provisions whilst one is afloat, albeit a fair stroll from the nearest canal mooring. There are many fine hostelries in the town but our choice was the Prince of Wales from the 'new' Joules stable. We both enjoyed Joule's Single Hop, a lovely 4.3% seasonal brew.

We pressed on to the outskirts of Macclesfield and tied up near Gurnett Aqueduct, beneath which was not only the site where James Brindley served his apprenticeship but also the Ye Olde Kings Head. Outbound and return visits were made here and excellent beers were available on both occasions. Elizabeth was quite taken with Storm Brewing's Isobarlow and their Bass, whilst I sampled Beartown's Kodiak and the eponymous Timothy Taylors Landlord. All beers were once more in very good condition.

And so, to Marple, historically in part of Cheshire. The jury has determined its location, but I am launching an appeal! An intended quick afternoon visit for supplies, ended up in a couple of hours imbibing in the splendid Samuel Oldknow, an excellent micro bar. Once again, a multiple CAMRA award winning establishment and it must be good with all those 'over the border' established breweries in nearby (mmm!) Greater Manchester. Six ales to choose from for the discerning customer. Elizabeth sampled the Brightside Brewery's IPA and Wantsum Breweries 1381 IPA. I, on the other hand, noticed one of my favourite stouts on offer, namely Titanic Cappuccino. A thoroughly splendid afternoon, in a quirky environment, drinking superb ales.

Derbyshire

It was only a dash into the High Peak area of Derbyshire missing some splendid watering holes in New Mills, Furness Vale, and Disley to moor up at Whaley Bridge. Long gone are many of the areas pubs but the mission we set ourselves was to re visit the Whaley Nook, another micro bar we recall having an enjoyable time in a few years back. Shock, horror! It didn't open until seven pm and we were on a tight timeline. Disappointingly strolling back to the basin, we happened upon The Goyt Inn, situated just around the corner from a splendid chip shop where, because we knew of its excellent reputation, we were determined to seek out our evening meal. The Goyt Inn opened at four pm and what a splendid place it was, with its five cask ales proudly displayed on the bar. We sat in the tradition and spotless interior and both sampled the Manchester brewed, Joseph Holt's Bitter at 4% which slipped down very well. Also available were Brakspear Gravity, Tetley's Cask, Brains Rev James Original and the pubs own Goyt Pale Ale. A rebadged Brakspear brew. The Goyt Inn, being a little tucked away is quite a local's pub and we listened to the amusing conversation. Especially that of an elderly gentleman who despite not being able to get beyond his doctor's receptionist, with a somewhat 'personal' issue stated to all that in the morning he was going to march into the doctors and slap the 'problem area' on her desk! The pub was in uproar as we all knew, where the problem area was!

So, was it three, three and a half or as I think, mistakeably perhaps, the (T)Ales of Three Counties. Definitive answers on a postcard to the editor.

DARTMOUTH BEER FESTIVAL

Julie Derbyshire, who with her husband and family runs Dudley's Café in Lower St Dartmouth

Over the years I have enjoyed attending many beer festivals in various parts of the country. From the small community based events in the village hall at Hanbury, Warwickshire to the larger, nationally recognised Beer on the Wye. A bigger festival is great for the wide variety of beers, ciders and music. But the smaller ones are sometimes just as good with ample, carefully selected beers and ciders; varied entertainment and local people who are happy to chat.

Three years ago my family and I moved to Dartmouth, and attending beer festivals took a back seat in life. So it was with great enthusiasm that I saw there was an annual beer festival in Dartmouth. The festival is organised by Dartmouth Rotary and it is a charity beer festival raising money for local charities. The festival this year was held on the last weekend of March, at The Flavel in Dartmouth. It has been going for over 10 years and is steadily growing in success. They had 25/30 volunteers over the weekend and opened for 3 days. The beers and ciders were sponsored by local companies all of whom were very generous. There was a nice range of beers and ciders, as well as alcohol free drinks and wines. Local company Greedy Table supplied the food of curry and accompaniments

Many of the beers were from local suppliers including Hanlons, South Hams Brewery, Dartmoor and Bays. But also firm favourites Black Sheep Bitter, Young's London Original and St Austell Brewery.

Hanlons Malt house Ale was a lovely drink, notes of biscuit and caramel, a pleasing amber ale. Hanlon's are based just north of Exeter and had several different beers at the festival.

South Hams Brewery are very local, their taproom is near to Slapton Sands. They also had several beers at the festival but I was particularly taken with Eddystone. It is a tasty golden ale with fruity notes, but a hint of saltiness. Eddystone was Taste of the West Champion beer 2025, as well as winning silver awards from SIBA and Food West Devon

St Austell's lesser known Trelawny is brewed as part of their 175th anniversary, reviving old recipes. Trelawny is a best bitter named after Bishop Trelawny from Cornish folklore, A copper ale with citrus notes and a maltiness. Salopian Brewery are based in Shropshire and their Lemon Dream was a favourite with festival drinkers. A refreshing pale beer, brewed with lemons to give a subtle citrus twist. A popular beer from a brewery not seen often in Devon. >>

DARTMOUTH BEER FESTIVAL...CONTINUED

>> The range of ciders were also very good. Cider from Hunts was excellent, they had Bull Walloper and Wobbler. Hunt's cider is brewed just over the river from Dartmouth, in Stoke Gabriel. My favourite was Bull Walloper it is a smooth rich medium sweet cider that was all too easy to drink. Very smooth and moorish with a hefty 7.2%

The music over the weekend was a good mix of different styles. Alfie Romeo and friends performed a lively first set of blues and jazz, followed by a more laid back second set. Saturday afternoon saw the sea shanty group, All Hands on Deck. A marvellous afternoon of good sing and clap along favourites. Saturday evening we had the Acoustic Sunshine Band, fabulous musicians who perform crowd pleasing classics but in their own style.

Definitely a foot tapping, sing along type of night, so welcome whilst washing it down with a lovely selection of beers and ciders.

Sunday was just the daytime session and music was provided by local favourites Mick and Lucy. A gentle laid back selection of popular tunes with guitar accompaniment. Lez the Fez entertained the tables with his close up magic. Quite amazing to see right in front of your eyes, how he makes things disappear.

It was a popular weekend with attendance up from previous years. There was a good mix of all ages and it was very welcome to see a lot of younger faces. Especially good to see Officer Cadets, dressed in shirt and ties, from the Britannia Royal Naval College.

In 2024 the Rotary Beer festival raised £2900, and the one in March 2026 raised £3600.

Money raised goes to supporting The Flavel and local youth charities. The Flavel are a community run event art space for the use of the community, completely self funded, The Flavel host the Library, a cafe and a auditorium where they show cinema, live events and music.

Local charities supported in the past include local Youth group and football teams

A very enjoyable festival with an extremely warm welcome, and all in aid of very good causes. Definitely worth looking out for for next year's event, which they are hopeful to run at the beginning of 2027.

BEER WITH ALTITUDE

Dartmoor Brewery is the highest brewery in England, situated at 1465 ft above sea level in the heart of the beautiful Dartmoor National Park. These superb, hand crafted, cask conditioned real ales use only the finest ingredients – English malt, Dartmoor water, hops and yeast. Dartmoor Brewery's beers have been enjoyed by beer lovers across the South West and beyond since 1994.

THE GREEN DRAGON STOKE FLEMING

Alan and Georgie welcome you to their traditional village pub serving homemade food, local real ales, delicious wines, a large selection of gin, rums and other spirits.

We have a sunny patio and beautiful beer garden, during warmer months our alfresco bar will be open and in cooler months our log fire will be roaring.

We love to hold a variety of live entertainment, quiz and themed nights and an annual beer and music festival, throughout the year.

You can find us on the South West Coastal path and the bus route. We are very dog friendly.

We offer a 10% discount off real ales for CAMRA members (exclusions apply).

NEW RATINGS FOR CASK BEER SCORING

Beer Scoring Advisory Group has been asked to review improving scoring and descriptors for cask beers. These proposed improvements have been put forward with the aim of:

- Simplifying the beer scoring process.
- Developing a greater, and shared, understanding of the scoring system and when each score should be used.
- Increasing the number of scores being submitted, and the number of members submitting scores.
- Separating 'no cask beer available' from the scoring scale.

New ratings and descriptions

The ratings replace the score scale and remove the use of half points.

The ratings will still have the numerical value (0-5) attached to them for 'back end' purposes to allow for calculation of and analysis of scores for pubs.

Rating	Description	Your reaction
Excellent	Exceptional and clear (if intended to be) with fantastic aromas, flavours and ideal carbonation.	Superb! You tell your friends and compliment the cellar manager.
Very good	Satisfying and well-kept with a great appearance, good carbonation and enticing aromas and flavours.	You consider having another and may cancel plans to move to another pub.
Good	Nice appearance, good carbonation, aromas and flavour.	Pleasant but not memorable. You're happy to have another but might consider something else.
Acceptable	Unremarkable and ordinary, with no noteworthy characteristics.	You're unlikely to have another unless it is all there is and there isn't another pub to go to.
Poor	Noticeably imperfect.	Drinkable with resentment, but you politely ask for a replacement.
Undrinkable	Unpleasant to drink, likely with a disgusting taste, incorrect appearance and off/foul aroma.	You politely ask for it to be replaced and consider asking the publican to take it off.
